I am mailing this from north of the Arctic Circle. I am on a flight from Fairbanks to home and the plane makes a stop at Kotzebue which is north of the Arctic Circle.

It snowed in Fairbanks last night and the temperature was 23° this morning. I wish I could send you a little of this weather.

Dear Grandma: Feb 24

Hi, I'm still having a great time up here in the north woods in the new area. A couple of weeks ago I drove 125 miles north to see the Canadian Rockies and they were beautiful - very similar to the postcard picture. I took a bunch of color pictures which you'll see eventually but I don't kid you about it! It's snowing now and is quite warm - 120 above. Thump are going around at the rig and I'm still able to eat my own cooking! Cooked a small roast last week and was surprised it was delicious! Hope everything is going good with you and our Neal again to see you again this summer love from
