The South Pacific

Dear Mom:

Today I knocked off a zero with your kitchen fats. Hard to believe, but it's true. The grease you save and turn in goes to make gunpowder for our guns.

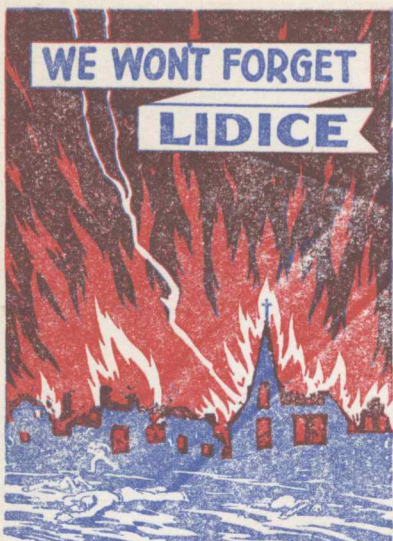

Keep it up, Mom. We can use plenty ammunition out here. Your waste fats make glycerine and glycerine makes powder for airplane cannons. Get the neighbors to help, too. You tell 'em what to do. Save at least a tablespoonful of fat every day. Pour it into a can, and as soon as it's full, rush it to the butcher. In less than three weeks it'll be made into gunpowder for us. So tell them to step on it, will you. Mom? We need it.

Love,
Joe
