

RETURN IN 5 DAYS TO
L. M. PASSMORE
753 S. SPRING ST.
LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Appeal Retail Store

753 South Spring St

Los Angeles

Cal

Alvah G. Clark,

This piece of mail was carried by
Aeroplane from Aviation Field
Postal Station to nearest regular
Postoffice at Compton, California.

285 Spring St.,
Trenton, N.J.

This piece of mail was carried by
Aeroplane from Aviation Field
Postal Station to nearest regular
Postoffice at Compton, California.

THIS SIDE OF CARD IS FOR ADDRESS ONLY

Mr Alvah G. Clark
285 Spring St.
Trenton, N.J.

Justis

THIS SPACE FOR CORRESPONDENCE

This piece of mail was carried by
Aeroplane from Aviation Field
Postal Station to nearest regular
Postoffice at Compton, California.

Compliments of
ARTHUR W. LINE
731 East Walnut St.
Pasadena, Cal.

PUBLISHED BY EDWARD H. MITCHELL SAN FRANCISCO CAL.

Mr. J. W. Longuecker,
Hartford Fire Ins. Co.
Hartford, Conn

This piece of mail was carried by
Aeroplane from Aviation Field
Postal Station to nearest regular
Postoffice at Compton, California.

THIS SIDE OF CARD IS FOR ADDRESS ONLY

ARTHUR W. LINE
731 East Walnut St.
Pasadena, Cal.

COL. C. L. HEARTWELL,
P. O. BOX 403,
Long Beach, Cal.

14 1912, January 20-28, Los Angeles, California.
Domingues Field Aviation Meet. Los Angeles inaugurated its first aeroplane service during the meet, when mail was flown daily from the aviation field to Compton, Cal., a distance of four miles. Glenn L. Martin acted as the aerial postman on the initial trip, January 20. Other pilots participated in the transfer of mail on subsequent dates. Three different types of chachets were employed, each differing in design from the other. They are classified in their chronological sequence of usage. In addition each piece of mail dispatched by air service on January 28 was marked with the following inscription: "This piece of mail was carried by aeroplane from Aviation Field-Postal-Station to nearest regular post office at Compton, Cal." The text was in four line.

