Certificate of Appreciation

Thank You for Putting Your Stamp on Conservation!

For more than 78 years, waterfowl hunters and stamp collectors have been the mainstay of the Federal Duck Stamp program, providing revenue to conserve some of the most important wetland and grassland habitats within the National Wildlife Refuge System. But these habitats also benefit many other families of wetland and grassland birds, as well as wildlife species such as plants, fish, amphibians, and even butterflies—a fact recognized by America's birders, wildlife watchers and conservationists.

Sales of Junior Duck Stamps support conservation education programs that help connect young people with their natural world through the arts.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service thanks you for joining the millions of waterfowl hunters, stamp collectors, educators, conservationists and birders who buy Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamps and Junior Duck Stamps!
